Passport To Spring

Travel the world over and the one-piece dress is still a woman's first choice. This spring such designers as 'Lee Evans and Adele Martin have combined silhouette, fabric and color in unbeatable fashion triumvirate.

Unnecessary detailing has been eliminated, leaving a costume to which a woman can add her own accessory touches. A broad belt or a bold scarf will underline your own individuality, while at the same time retaining good fashion lines.

Whether your travels take you to the heart of Paris, a small cafe in Milan or New York's Central Park zoo, your enjoyment will come from knowing that you've selected a costume that goes anywhere and arrives looking wonderfully composed. And no matter what fad or tend may prevail, the one-piece dress is still the perfect partner for a passport to a beautiful and productive spring.

Antique world What is lusterware?

What exactly is luster-ware? Luster is the effect obtained when metaling film is applied to a piece of ceramic or porcelain, giving it an irridescent look, or the color and sheen of a par-ticular metal.

Many of the fine artisans who developed this processhad a deep understanding of chemistry. But then this is not surprising, as the artist and the chemist have many times combined their knowledge and their skill to produce reconvenience and beauty for mankind.

One of the early preipes for luster-ware shows that powluster-ware 'shows that powy dered gold was added to ac-quariegis (a' solvent made of muriaite thydrochloric) acid and intrie, acid. At times a small portion of tin was added. This mixture was then, combined with an amalgam of bulsam of sulphur and spirits of turnentime.

THE GOLD-LUSTER produced by this process was not always uniform in color. The color of the actual piece of cetube whose end is covered with fine mushfi. When in the kiln the oil expands and form-tiny hubbles and splashes.

SILVER LUSTER ware

I. PLAIN or all over luster. This was very popular because of the enormous value placed on silver or gold plate by the people of the 1800s. Luster made it possible for the less affluent to have dinner ware that looked like silver and golf plate. 2. Luster painted by band in much the same manner as with enamels and stenoch.

3. Revect lawer — the effect produced where the pattern is shown in white or some other color against a luster back-ground pattern and the same printing in loster decorations.

5. Reliet modding with-fea-tures either wholly or partly decorated in luster.

6. Egigtre, and statuary ei-ther partly or wholly decorated in loster. Roma Johnson wins limousine-for-a-day

Your Weekly Horoscope

GEMINI (May 21 - June 28): First three days of week shind you bubbling over with enthusiasm for life. Where a verks ago there may have been clastes with associates, hould now-find that plans dovetail and everyone winds up week cooling. On last day of week you may not accomplish mut you could have fun just gooding around.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Memory nags in week aheas Moonbeby. Try not to give in to moodiness. Remember th memory alone recalls only echos of voices heard long ago. Bette to listen to the voices which surround you today. They are life They are your tomorrows.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): If seamy gossip is whispered into your ears in week ahead, Leo, let it go right out the other, are those who would be delighted to see you worry. Dor them the satisfaction. You are like a banked fire, Leo, doesn't take much to get you raging.

OOSSA I take much to get you saying.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept 22): Your public and private lives are two sides of the same coin, Virg. They are close as can be, yet they never meet. Probably this is just as well. But sometime during week hade, you will have at least a mental confrontation.
And the mental gymnastics that will follow may leave you

LiBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): If you are involved in a long drawn-out relationship that seems difficult to fathom, take heart, Libra. You cannot always pet the quick results which you desire. If you become flightly at this point, you may lose all. If that should happen, don't come crying to old Olga.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Be loyal to the one with whom y have cast lots. Scorp. Do not be too domineering and demandial if you have entered into a business deal within the past y which seemed unlikely, it will take you just a little longer to re the rewards. Be devoted and attentive to beloved on last to days of week.

SAGITTARIUS (Nev. 22-Dec. 21): Sai, yours is the third mushle fire-sign. Mutable for amenity, fire for romance. And like all sustable signs, you love to talk. And talk. You naturally refer to associate with those who offer stimulating ideas. In reck shead you may be more stimulated, than you've ever argained for. Ummm.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Cautious, cautious Cap, In reck ahead you would do well to consider a bit of fun. Not for merapy-but for the beckoff. If your daily activities keep you doors, then get out and circulate. Saunter down a boulevard, troll through the part. Or just run around the block in your mants shoes. Anything, Just get up.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Yours is the last air-sign, quarius. Fixed for resistance, and air for intellect: More people or under your sign are represented in the Hall of Fame that yo other sign. In week alread, loved one may field you difficult ty thinking with your heart for a change.

PSICES (Feb. 19 - March 20); Seem to have lost your sens lirection, Pisces? Feel like you are drifting? Maybe it's time Pisces to get back into orbit. If the one you love does not loack, then look about the lake. There are lots of other fish, now. In fact, at this time of year the blue gibls are running.

The complexities of the problems at Harper College are not being brought before the public. We challenge the incumbent board members to justify the following questions which we believe are vital issues in the current campaign for the Board of Trustees.

1. Why were meeting sincennically held to discuss the effective that the problems of the control of the problems tentionally held to discuss the referendum without giving prior notice to the public? The Board of Trusters is released by the public, to transact public business with public moins. We believe that if the public is to react favorably to Harper l'College, open and Irank discussions are imperative. Honey apple, sweet topper for oatmeal man a oowi or steaming oatmear?

Here's a recipe with a special sweet, buttery topping. Apple slices simmered in a tart-sweet instruct of honey and lemon juice are spooned onto each serving of hot oatmeal. And if you like, and a sprinking of cinamon and serve with milk or cream. It's a pleasing flavor combination that does a world of nutritional good, too.

HONEY-APPLE OATMEAL

4 cups water

(quick or old fashioned

tousker)
4 cup honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups apple silces (about %-inch thick)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

For oatmeal, stir oats into briskly boiling salted water. Cook 1 minute for quick oats, stirring occasionally. Cook 5 minutes or longer for old fashioned oats. Cover pan, remove from heaf and let stand a few minutes.

For topping, bring honey and lemon juice to a boil. Reduce heat; add apples and stir just to cost. Simmer, covered, 3 to 4 minutes or until apples are tender. Stir in butter.

Spoon topping onto bowls of the hot oatmeal. If desired, sprinkle with cinnamon and serve with milk or cream. Makes 6 servings.

Revive your family's interest in oatmeal by topping it with this honey and apple combination.

Hawaiian-style muffins Hawaiian style muffins

Freshly-baked muffins seem to go perfectly with many different foods — the hot casserole of summer, the ham dimeres of spring and even the fresh fruit salads of summer. Of course, there are many ways to add special glamor to the basic muffines we familiar with.

When baked Hawaiian-style, muffins become filled with pineapple and coconut, then, even topped with a cherry. While baking, they take on a festive appearance which makes them attrac-tive enough to brighten up any meal.

THESE MUFFINS have a secret ingredient—Nut Bread Mit. As with any mix, the batter is simple to make. Then, instead of spooning the simple to make. Then, instead of spooning the lines with colorful paper lines. Then, tope each with a cherry and bake. Soon you will have hot muffine ready to serve.

Joseph Morton," the trusseread.
"Is this type of activity proper?" he demanded.
Frank Hines, the Harper board attorney, responded that the solicitation was not necessarily a conflict of interest.

"Conceivably it might be.
It's the type of thing that could be controlled by a board," said
Hines, stating that the board had "the power to preclude solicitation of any sort on the

IT WAS DURING these years that the northern part of Nigeria was first being opened to missionary work, and the Vanderschies were able to go into some of these areas, in 1945 opening a new station in a previously unreached area.

In the early 1950s, there were increasing calls for evan-gelistic meetings in English in the large centers, to reach the educated Africans, mostly from other tribes, living in the north for business reasons.

Large evangelistic campaigns were held in the English-speaking centers, with the aid of equipment such as portable steel benches, an electric plant, an amplifying outfit, etc. The African evangelical pastors cooperated in this effort, and thousands were converted.

AT THE PRESENT time.
Rev. Vanderschie is the regional representative for the Suden Interior Mission, endeavoring to give to those in the homeland a vision of the

Dist. 59 board needs continuity: incumbent

Paul Neuhauser of Mount Prospect, special agent with the Internal Revenue Service and a part-time teacher of ac-counting at Harper College, is a candidate for the two-year term on the School District 59

A graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in mar-keting. Neuhauser has a mas-ter's degree from DePaul in ter's degree from DePaul in accounting.

He first ran for the board in April. 1969, Iosing by 24 votes to George Blanchard Blanchard was transferred, the board held a special election to fill the vacancy—and Neuhauser won. He was appointed to the board last August and has served since then.

"I THINK that the board should exercise proper fiscal responsibility." Neuhauser said. "We want to give you the hest possible education for your children at the least possible

One of the campaign points Neuhauser has stressed is that in an election where four of the seven board members will be chosen, continuity becomes chasen, continuity becomes important. Neuhauser feels that because he helped select superintendent James Erviti, who will take office July 1, he

Harper parking lots stir poet's ire

"What about the jungles of heaven?" Nicholas Lindsay asked his Harper student au-dience. "Are you going to bomb them into parking lots?"

Lindsay read some of his fa-ther's poems Wednesday at a 'Harper Coblege cultural array presentation. But "per-formed" rather than "read" might be a more accurate de-scription. Lindsay's person-ality was evident in the first moments of his presentation, as he described, the Harper parking lot.

"Parking lots make me ofgy," he said, "Leveling out the otherwise hills and lumps of flowers. What is art, anyway? All those notebooks of poerty that you write and stash away? Art is getting worse at what you're bad about---your secret passions.

Though Vachel Lindsay died in 1931, his poem on student demonstrations seemed especially appropriate to out times. "Let not young students be smothered out," Lindsay began. And this was the poem that a number of the Harper students were talking about as they left.

THE WILLIAM BLOUNT MANSION KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE

William Blount was recommended for the post of Territorial Governor by many prominent North Carolinians and Washington tendered him the appointment on June 8, 1790. In a lottery held in October, 1791, Governor Blount purchased the site of the Mansion which was built in 1792 with a separate office constructed just behind: and, from the date of their competition, they because the site of the Mansion which was built in 1792 with a separate office constructed just behind: and, from the date of their competition, they because the site of the sit of the site of their completion, they became the center of political, civil, military, and social activity for the entire territory. These were the first frame build-ings west of the Allegheny Mountains. Blount Mansion has been desig-nated a Registered National Historic Landmark.

THE PARLOR-

This formal but gracious room was acceut to the incuse in 1794. Of particular interest is the Oriental rug with its Aesop's fable of the fox and the grapes. The imposing secretary with its secret drawer belonged to Colonel David Campbell, a contemporary of Governors.

It is difficult not to contrast this version of the fun musical with the local one played last summer by Tenzel Players, a The Wizard deserves very special mention. Played by Roy Quid, who stepped into the role originally held by Hank. Vandenboom who was injured in an automobile accident a week before opening day. Diante Losergan took the place of another young woman who was injured. Quid played the role as if he'd never missed a rehearsal. together jost for the tun of it. They both used the same lead-ing lady. Karen Mason, who, understand, it for repeat her understand, it for repeat her entered to the strength of the strength

The production is well worth seeing. The costumes by Karen Gutzmer and Dorothy Ould were lovely. Gutdon Palmer's massic was excellent but too loud. The chorus of saingers was just right, and the choreography under the direction of Beth Vandenboom was lively and fun. Ticket information can be had from CL 3-2793 after 5 p.m.
